If you wait until you arrive to order meals, you risk not having enough meals available to handle your late order and you will have to go elsewhere to eat and get back for the speaker and rest of the program. Eating together with everyone is part of the great experience of being at the Gathering.

The Bereaved Parents “Gatherings” are a unique time of inspiration and encouragement, making new friends in a comfortable setting as we remember our children who lost their lives too soon. A full weekend of informative speakers and inspiring workshops, all day Friday and Saturday sharing the grief process, how to cope and heal. Plus special music, banquet meals and wonderful fellowship with fellow bereaved families from across the country walking this journey, too. A unique Butterfly Boutique gift shop, a Silent Auction and many beautiful raffle items are offered and a complete bookstore provided by the Centering Corporation. A very special Saturday night Candlelight Ceremony featuring a photo presentation of our beloved children is a highlight of the weekend! Send in your child's picture as you register.
